HOW TO USE THIS BLUEPRINT

Every woman leads with two layers – the conscious and unconscious.

The conscious layer is what you choose: Your intent. Your values. The leader you try to be.

The unconscious layer is what you default to under pressure: your default patterns, blind spots, stress responses, and the habits you repeat without realising.

Most leadership programmes only coach the conscious layer. That's why change can feel slow, even when you are doing all the right things.

Doyenne starts differently. We start with your Leadership Profile Blueprint, it uses Human Design as a framework to surface your unconscious leadership patterns, so you can work with them, not against them. That blueprint becomes your anchor throughout the programme.

HERE'S HOW TO USE IT

- Read Page 3 first. That is your orientation.
- Then choose one pillar to focus on at a time. You do not need to “fix” everything at once.
- Use the aligned vs misaligned signals to catch yourself in the moment.
- You can use the practical moves and sentence starters immediately. That's where change starts.

USE THIS BLUEPRINT WHEN

- You feel rushed, flat, reactive, or quietly resentful.
- You are being pulled to perform instead of lead.
- You are making a decision under pressure.
- You are stepping into higher visibility or higher stakes.

WHAT NOT TO DO

- Don't use this as a label.
- Don't use it to criticise yourself.
- Don't force yourself to match every line.

This is a tool for awareness and choice.

After every module, you will take 15 minutes to integrate what you have learned back into how you lead – so the learning sticks in real life.

THE PROGRAMME DOESN'T JUST TEACH LEADERSHIP.
IT TEACHES YOU YOUR LEADERSHIP.

YOUR FIVE PILLARS

1. Leadership Energy Style: As an Emotional Manifesting Generator, you're a catalyst for progress – efficient, adaptive, and built for momentum.
2. Decision-Making & Inner Authority: As an Emotional authority leader, your best decisions come with time – clarity lands after the emotional wave, not in the moment.
3. Communication & Influence Style: You're designed to influence through truth and timing – your voice lands hardest when it's settled, not rushed.
4. Energy Management & Sustainability: Your energy stays sustainable when you honour alignment – frustration is feedback, not failure, and patience prevents burnout.
5. Impact, Legacy & Leadership Direction: You're here to create environments of possibility – lifting standards, expanding what feels achievable, and inspiring growth through example.

YOUR KEY LEADERSHIP STRENGTHS

1. You build trust fast through strong relationships.
2. You bring long-term perspective to decisions and strategy.
3. You turn lived experience into practical leadership insight.

YOUR PRESSURE PATTERNS

1. You over-invest in people and under-protect your boundaries.
2. You rush credibility, trying to prove yourself before you're ready.
3. You network well, but can lose focus on execution.

YOUR FOCUS FOR THIS PROGRAMME

1. Use relationships for influence and intelligence, not approval.
2. Build authority through consistency, not intensity.
3. Balance connection with action, credibility lives in what ships.

HOW TO USE THIS IDENTITY

1. Cultivate strategic relationships: Invest where there's trust and mutual value.
2. Lead from lived insight: Turn experience into clear decisions and guidance.
3. Build credibility through consistency: Let your track record build authority.
4. Protect focus: Connection matters. Outcomes matter just as much.
5. Trust your judgement: Other voices are input, not instruction.

LEADERSHIP ENERGY STYLE

As a Manifesting Generator you lead best when you stop expecting your energy to be constant, and start leading with how it actually moves.

This pillar explains how you engage with responsibility, how momentum builds for you, and why certain environments either switch you on or quietly drain you. This is not about working harder. It's about working in a way that produces impact without costing you your authority.

PILLAR ONE

WHAT TO NOTICE ABOUT YOUR LEADERSHIP ENERGY

Your energy is responsive. It sharpens when something is real, defined, and ready for movement. In the right context, responsibility gives you focus. You move fast, solve quickly, and create visible progress. In the wrong context, the same responsibility feels heavy. You may push, overtake, over-function, or withdraw. That is not a character flaw. It is information.

WHEN YOU ARE ALIGNED

- You build momentum through action and iteration.
- You create efficiency and progress others can feel.
- You move quickly without chaos, because your direction is clear.
- You energise the room by getting things moving.

WHEN YOU ARE MISALIGNED

- You feel frustrated, scattered, or oddly tired early.
- You take on too much to stabilise situations that are not yours to hold.
- You act to relieve pressure, not because it is the right moment.
- You outpace the room, then resent the room for not keeping up.

YOUR CORE LEADERSHIP TRUTH

Your pace is an advantage when it is chosen. It becomes a problem when it is used as a coping strategy.

YOUR MANIFESTING GENERATOR ADVANTAGE, IN LEADERSHIP LANGUAGE

As a Manifesting Generator, you are built for fast momentum and real-time adaptation. You are at your best when you can respond, move, refine, and improve as you go.

Your job is not to slow yourself down to make others comfortable. Your job is to lead with speed that is aligned, and communicate clearly enough that others can come with you.

LEADERSHIP ENERGY STYLE

PILLAR ONE

YOUR CORE ALIGNMENT PRINCIPLES

- 1. Choose momentum over perfection: You get clearer through movement. Progress creates feedback. Feedback creates refinement. If you wait for certainty, you stall your own power.
Practical move: Decide the next step, not the full outcome.
- 2. Respond, then commit: Your strongest leadership comes from responding to what is real, not initiating from pressure or expectation.
Practical move: Ask, "What is actually happening here, right now?"
- 3. Course-correct without guilt: Changing direction is not inconsistency. It is intelligent leadership when it is based on new information.
Practical move: Treat pivots as upgrades, not admissions of failure.
- 4. Narrate your shifts: Because you move quickly, people need context. Silence creates resistance. Clarity builds trust.
Practical move: Say what changed, why it changed, and what happens next.
- 5. Trust speed that feels clean: Aligned speed feels energising and focused. Forced speed feels tense and reactive.
Practical move: If it feels like you are sprinting to prove something, simply pause.

YOUR LEADERSHIP ENERGY FOCUS

This week, practise one or two of these. Keep it small. Make it real.

1. Place your energy deliberately on the work that benefits from you, not the work that simply appears loudest.
2. Notice where you over-give to keep things stable. Name what you are trying to prevent.
3. Choose one responsibility to slow down slightly, so your pace becomes intentional, not automatic.
4. Stop absorbing tasks by default. Ask, "Is this mine to hold?"

SENTENCE STARTERS THAT PROTECT YOUR ENERGY AND AUTHORITY

Use these in the moment, especially when pressure hits.

- "I'm going to take a moment to gain clarity, then I'll come back with a decision."
- "I can move fast on this, but I need the scope confirmed first."
- "I'm pivoting based on what we now know. Here's what we change."
- "That is not within my remit. I'm happy to support, but can't own it."

WHY THIS MATTERS

Leadership is not endurance. It is judgement, consistency, and presence over time. When you lead with aligned momentum, you become both powerful and sustainable.

GLOSSARY - YOUR BLUEPRINT MAP & DEFINED CHANNELS

12-22 (OPENNESS) – THE INDIVIDUALIST

Connects the Solar Plexus and Throat centres.

The emotional expression channel. You're here to speak with feeling, not performance. When the timing is right, your words land with beauty and impact, and people listen. If it's not the moment, forcing it never works. Authenticity is your influence.

9-52 (CONCENTRATION) – THE FOCUSED FINISHER

BRIDGES THE ROOT AND SACRAL CENTRES.

The focus, patience and precision channel. You can lock onto something and give it steady attention until it's done. Your gift is sustained energy, but only when you choose the right target. Lead by protecting your focus from noise, urgency, and everyone else's priorities.

35-36 (TRANSITION) – THE ADVENTURER

Runs between the Solar Plexus and Throat centres.

The experience and growth channel. You're built to live, learn, and move through change, then turn what you've learned into something useful for others. Variety fuels you, but the leadership is in the lesson, not the drama.

34-57 (POWER) – THE SURVIVAL INSTINCT

Bridges the Spleen and Sacral centres.

The instinct and vitality channel. You pick up what's off before anyone else names it, and you have the energy to act on what you sense. Your power is at its best when you trust your intuition and move from what feels healthy, not from guilt. Self-preservation can look like self-centredness to others, but it's actually leadership hygiene. Put your oxygen mask on first, then you can support everyone else without burning out.
